Elba FCCLA students bring home two national championships

by Linda Hodge, Editor

Nine Elba High School FCCLA [Family, Career and Community Leaders of America] students attended the National FCCLA Leadership Conference during the week of July 2-6 in Denver, Colorado, and eight of the nine students competed in STAR [Students Taking Action with Recognition] events.

To earn a berth in the national STAR Events, the students either had to place first or second in their respective state competitions. The national events were open to competitors from all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

Elba High Schools FCCLA program was represented at nationals by Keelie Moseley, competing in Teach or Train; Adalyn O'Neal, competing in Say Yes to FCS Education; Taylor Day, Kayden Moseley; and Hillary Hudson, competing in Sports Nutrition; and Shaylee Johnson, Mary-Brooklyn O'Neal and Payton Parks, competing in Repurpose and Redesign. Also, Elba's Zalie McKelvy attended the leadership conference serving in her capacity as President of the Alabama FCCLA student organization.

When awards were announced, Elba FCCLA returned home with two national championships, another "Top 10" finish, and all Gold medals.

"Watching these kids grow and speak is really quite impressive," said Elba High FCCLA sponsor Christina Morgan. "All these students have gained skills that will help propel them through life."

McKelvy, who has participated in STAR events in the past, said she got to look at things from a different perspective this year as president of Alabama FCCLA.

"We may have a smaller school here in Elba, but we are definitely on the same level if not better than any out there, which I feel is evident based on all our program came back with from nationals," she said.

FIRST PLACE [REPURPOSE AND REDESIGN, LEVEL 1]...Elba FCCLA students Payton Parks, Mary-Brooklyn O'Neal and Shaylee Johnson were named the best-of-the best for Repurpose and Redesign, Level 1, at the National FCCLA Leadership Conference held in Denver, Colo. They are shown here with their first place plaque from the event held earlier this month.

"These girls...they are just the best!"

The first to compete at nationals was the Sports

Nutrition team, which consists of Taylor Day, Kayden Moseley and Hillary Hudson. While this team did not have a top ten finish at nationals, the young ladies finished with a score of 93 and received a Gold medal [scores of 90-100].

"They did not feel like they did their best, but they truly did great," Morgan said of the Sports Nutrition group. "To only lose seven points in your presentation, they did really well, and this is in competition with the best of the best from all across the United States."

Day said she thinks they were all a little nervous, but they knew they had to just go in there and do it.

"This was our first time competing at that level, and I feel like we learned a lot about what we need to do better next year," Kayden Moseley said. "Hopefully, we can take that and next year make top ten or even top three."

Hudson agreed. She said they already are looking into what to do and how to prepare for next year's

News Brief

Elba Mayor Tom Maddox had previously announced at an Elba City Council meeting that he had a hearing set with Police Chief Troy Staley on Friday, July 7th. Staley has been on administrative leave with pay since Saturday, June 17th.

Mayor Maddox did not mention the hearing with Staley during the Monday, July 10, council meeting, but the council did vote to enter an executive session to "discuss personnel and reputation." It was not revealed as to whether that executive session was regarding Staley or another employee.

The council took no action following the executive session.

On Tuesday, July 8, Elba City Clerk Sally Bane said Staley remained on administrative leave as of that day. As for any further details, she said, "This is an ongoing personnel issue and we will not make a statement at this time."

Elba BOE approves to new hires during special meeting

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba Board of Education met Tuesday morning, July 11, for a special called meeting, and the main order of business was to make two new hires for the upcoming school year.

Superintendent Chris Moseley asked the board to approve the hire of Ashley Brunson as the new Elba High School counselor. He said Brunson, an Elba alum, had worked outside of education prior to her interest in this job.

Moseley said Brunson would work under an emergency certificate through the Alabama Department of Education, which would be good for two consecutive years, and could be renewed for another two consecutive years if needed. However, the superintendent said Brunson had indicated she plans to return to school to attain the necessary degree work she needs to be fully certified as a counselor.

Moseley said he anticipates Brunson having that coursework completed before a need or reissuance of the emergency certificate.

He also noted that no one who applied for the counselor's position had ever worked in the field previously.

Board members voted unanimously to approve the hire of Ashley Brunson as the high school counselor.

For the elementary school, the superintendent asked board members to consider the hire of Adelia LaShawn Russell to be a special education teacher. He noted that Russell, also an Elba alumnus, had most recently been teaching in Opp.

Board members voted with no opposition to approve the hire of Russell as a special education teacher at Elba Elementary School. Board member Miranda Russell abstained from the vote due to a close relation with the proposed candidate.

The next regular Elba Board of Education meeting will be Tuesday, July 25, at 5:30 p.m.

"Always remember that you are absolutely unique. Just like everyone else." — Margaret Mead

The CDC has been telling us not to do this for years, and a lot of people refuse to listen. Apparently, raw or unbaked batter or dough can make you sick. To back up these claims, there actually was an E. Coli outbreak in 2021, which sparked a new round of CDC warnings. Yes, raw cake batter is delicious, but resist the urge is their message. Raw eggs and uncooked flour can have salmonella and E. Coli, two diseases that are unpleasant at best and require hospitalization at worst. You shouldn't even let your kids handle raw dough, even homemade playdough, if the dough has eggs or uncooked flour in it. Glad our mama didn't know about this danger! We have licked many a bowl after she loaded the mixer with the mixed ingredients. There was always the scrapings, in fact thinking back she probably left some on purpose! Like she always had some berry juice for us to drink when the last making of jelly was in the jars. She acknowledged that was because we were so helpful in picking the berries. You could call that bribery – but it worked!

When thinking about the raw eggs above, we are reminded of an Army buddy from Minnesota. We would go to town and stop at a certain ice cream counter and James would order a milkshake with a raw egg . . . every weekend we went to town. He could also gnaw a chicken bone cleaner than any person we have ever known. He explained that he loved to spend weeks at the time in the 'North Woods' of Minnesota and Canada during the winter living off the land. He noted that when he trapped an animal nothing went to waste because he didn't know when he would catch something else. Made sense if you are going to play Mountain (or wilderness) Man.

Alzheimer's treatment! The FDA has approved a drug (Leqembi) that doesn't cure Alzheimer's but slows down its progress a bit. This official approval will open Medicare and other health insurance for coverage of this treatment. This is good because the cost is estimated to be about $26,500 for a year's supply of IVs every two weeks. That is a much needed step towards either a cure or prevention. It will not help those of us who have lost loved ones to the disease, but any forward progress should be welcomed.

This old man was feeling mighty cocky Monday when the wake-up call for the morning was the steady pouring rain. Sunday evening we impulsively pushed the garbage can to the street for pick-up sometime around noon on Monday. We felt so smart for having done that before the rain. THEN when stepping out the door enroute to work, alas the garbage can was overturned and wet trash scattered! Suddenly our cocky attitude took a turn for the worse as that wet, soggy stuff had to be corralled and replaced in the garbage can. Had we waited until morning to roll it to the street at least it would not have been scattered and soggy. Now that is one of the best ways to clip the wings of cocky old men!

Copcats continue to try to make headlines by committing the worst mass killings of the year. Try as we might, the rationale for these shootings escapes our simple way of thinking. Rarely does one get away with the crime and if they are doing it to have someone kill them (a form of suicide), it can be done without taking a bunch of innocent citizens with them. Don't forget the road rage incidents . . . they continue to explode all over the country and make about as much sense as the mass shootings.

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

Cuzin Lou Lou and the Gang enjoyed a pretty relaxing weekend at home last weekend...well, except for the short time Friday night when Lou Lou almost got her and Sister caught in a rain-storm on Lou 2!

Lou Lou needed to make a quick run to pick up some fresh peas she had purchased, and she convinced Sister to go along for the ride. Without checking the weather, they jumped in Lou 2 and headed off. Very quickly, Lou Lou noticed the gloomy looking clouds that had formed quickly...she had been outside 15 minutes prior and things looked good. Well... Lou Lou and Sister made it three-fourths of the way to their desination when Lou Lou saw the rain!

Unfortunately, Sister saw it about the same time, and the fussing began! A quick turn-around and Lou Lou pushed Lou 2 to beat the rain back to the gang's house. She made it with almost no time to spare, and lived another day to keep telling her tales! Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling!

LETTERS — TO THE — EDITOR

To my friends and the town of Elba, THANK YOU!

Last year realized a dream come true for me when the Chamber hired our band, Blind Skeleton, to play for Elba's July 4th Let Freedom Ring Celebration. Since that time, the guys have asked repeatedly what it would take to be invited again. When I received the call from Sandy about playing again this year, we were elated!

I never hide my love for Elba and its people. Having moved to town in 1974 and not leaving until after I graduated from Auburn in 1991, Elba will always be MY hometown full of those that I love so much. While most of my Northwest Georgia Friends will never understand, the guys in the band do as they have seen firsthand what makes Elba, Elba. Whether it's someone just stopping by to speak, offer help and/or drop off some kind of treat, it's all done with love and of gratitude that most towns don't offer.

Since my days in the Elba First United Methodist Choir and the FFA Quarter, I've dreamed of playing in a band on the square in Elba. While I completely abandoned singing for over 30 years until May 2022, getting the opportunity to sing again with these guys was a dream come true. Getting to do it on the square for a second time in front of those that I love was beyond my wildest dreams that I never thought would happen.

On behalf of Donnie Nesbit (keyboard), Ronnie Vandyke (bass/vocals), Tom Rigsby (lead guitar), Scott West (drums/vocals), and myself, we want to thank Sandy Bynum, Gappa Wise, Michael Moseley, Donna Falls, Tom Maddox, Justin Maddox, Mike Holderfield, Kathy Smith, April Kelley (Kelley Farms), Scott Garland, Linda Hodge, and all the sponsors for everything that made Blind Skeleton feel so welcome! Thanks also goes out to Elba (MY TOWN) and its people (MY FRIENDS), we love you all and hope to see you again soon!!

With love and gratitude,
Bill Brueckner

Pre-K auxiliary teacher at New Brockton Elementary; Justin Harbuck, special education aide at New Brockton High; Angela Weisensale and Chancey Sessions bus drivers for the county schools; Susana Figueroa, 12-month custodian for New Brockton High; and Alexis Thomas, 10-month custodian for New Brockton Middle School.

The board heard a report from the State of Alabama Department of Public Examiners of Public Accounts on the audit report for Oct. 1, 2021 through Sept. 30, 2022. It was revealed that the public examiners recorded no findings in their report.

Also, during the meeting, board members approved the 2023-2024 salary schedule as presented by the state, approved a bid for bread/bakery products, approved a bid for digital signs for all five school buildings within the system, and approved a CNP meal price increase for adult meals for the upcoming school year.

The board did enter an executive session to "discuss personnel and good name" as stated by the board attorney. Board president Galen McWaters said no action would result from the executive session upon return to open meeting.

In her report to board members, the superintendent said most personnel had been hired for the upcoming school year. She did note a need to hire a new band director at Zion Chapel.

"We are still lacking a band director at Zion Chapel," Cobb said. "Extracurricular activities are important at schools so this will be an important hire."

Also, Cobb said the school system would be planning a ribbon cutting for the new New Brockton Middle School. She said this would be held Thursday evening, Aug. 3, following the regular monthly board meeting.

Reasons You Should Pre-Plan Your Funeral

Pre-planning a funeral (also known as preneed) is a funeral plan that is made while someone is living. Pre-planning a funeral can be done at any time. You can do it by yourself or with a family member. It can also be helpful to enlist the support of a funeral director if you have any questions or need advice about different options.

When you pre-plan you can make big decisions, such as whether you would like to be buried or cremated, where you would like the service to be held, or where you would like your final resting place to be. You can also make smaller decisions such as what kind of food you would like served or what songs you would like played. Pre-planning a funeral has many benefits.

You can give yourself and your family peace of mind. It can provide comfort to know that you have written down your desires, and it can be comforting to your family knowing they are able to honor your wishes. You can save money. There is often little time allowed for shopping around, and many families rush to plan a funeral which may lead to paying higher costs. Pre-planning can allow time to shop around and compare prices.

You can be more financially prepared. If you know what your funeral plan will cost, you can find ways to start paying for it. You could set up a pre-need plan where you pay the costs of the funeral outright while you are still living. You could also look into other payment methods such as setting up a savings account or purchasing insurance.

You can save your family time and stress. By having a plan in place, you free your family up to focus on supporting each other.

It can help prevent family conflict. If you are concerned there may be disagreements on funeral or burial practices within your family, having a plan in place can be very helpful.

To begin pre-planning your funeral, start by writing down your thoughts and wishes. Make sure to keep your document in a safe and accessible place. If you have any questions or need advice, contact your funeral director who can help you get started.

The Bible Stands

On one of his old history books a student once wrote, "In case of famine, eat this book: it's full of baloney! In case of flood, stand on this book: it's dry!" The world sees the Bible in much the same way: an outdated and often erroneous history book.

A nineteenth-century writer, commenting on the reliability of the Bible states, "People for two millennia have been refuting and overthrowing this book, and yet it stands today as solid as a rock. Its circulation increases, and it is more loved and cherished and read today than ever before. People make about as much impression on this book as a man with a tack hammer would on the pyramids of Egypt. The hammers of infidels have been pecking away at this book for ages, but the hammers are worn out, and the anvil still endures. If this book had not been the book of God, men would have destroyed it long ago. Emperors and popes, kings and princes and rulers, scholars and intellectuals, have all tried their hand at it; they die and the book still lives."

What accounts for such durability and esteem for the Bible? Simply this: it is the Word of God. Peter reminds us that "the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost" (2 Peter 1-21). For one who believes in the inspiration of the Bible, it naturally follows that the Bible is the authority for living. To claim that the Bible is inspired by God yet reject its authority for daily living is a contradiction. — A.E.A.

Our grandsons Lawson and Cannon made it to two fireworks displays in just a matter of days last week as they attended the July Fourth celebration here in Elba after earlier taking in the big show at Fort Novosel. I think Cannon was amazed at the bright colors and starbursts that lit up the sky in downtown Elba, while Lawson was more curious about how it all happened. Anyway, they both had a good time and so did their grandparents.

For what it is worth....

 The second week of the preseason high school football series shines the spotlight on the New Brockton Gamecocks and the Kinston Bulldogs.

The Gamecocks have struggled since the move to Class 3A, including an 0-10 record last season, and are mired in a 14-game losing streak. They own seven region titles and have posted a total of 28 winning seasons in the past 49 years.

The Bulldogs have posted only nine winning seasons in 52 years on the gridiron, but are only one year removed from a record-breaking 8-4 record and a playoff win last season. They have won a total of 12 wins the last two seasons, a team record.

Both the county teams have big followers and take pride in their teams in all sports, and with a new year ahead hopes are high for a banner season loaded with wins and a trip to the playoffs!

 As July gets into full swing more and more area high school football teams will begin the annual movement to "7 on 7" camps. I read where one area coach called the contests "fake football" and said it only had a limited impact on the players, while others like to see their linebackers and defensive backs in coverage. No matter how the coaches feel, the players like to get a break from the routine and get a chance to be winners in any type of competition.

 As the worlds of TV sports and streaming internet sites continue their battle, ESPN last week made it clear it would fight back with a leaner list of characters as it laid off at least 20 of its best known personalities. Radio personalities Max Kellerman, Keyshawn Johnson and Jay Williams all hit the mute button on the dial, while NFL analysts Suzy Kolber, Steve Young and Matt Hasselback were all benched; NBA voices Jeff Van Gundy, Jalen Rose and LaPhonso Ellis were all sent to the locker room; so-called draft expert Todd McShay lost his podium; and ex-SEC standout and college game-day personality David Pollock was sent packing. While I agree many of those that lost their jobs added little to the sports they were working, I wish they would get rid of Stephen A. Smith, the overpaid, loud-mouth know-it-all that loves to shout out his own beliefs on any and all sports. There is no doubt there is still a need for people to fill roles on TV and internet sites. However, at ESPN it looks like the salary structure is about to change and we will soon be introduced to the second stringers.

 In closing.... This has nothing to do with sports, but one afternoon last week I sat down in front of the TV and stopped changing channels when I came upon an old western that actually had cowboys and Indians doing battle. I had no doubt who would win until the calvary showed up and was led into battle by George Custer. If ole "yellow hair" is in the movie you can bet on the Indians every time.

Wiregrass Wolverines open SFC football season with shutout win

The Wiregrass Wolverines semi-pro football team, based in Elba, Ala., opened play for the 2023 inaugural season Saturday, July 8, when the team hosted the Houston County Warriors from Dothan, Ala.

The Wolverines are part of the Southeast Championship Football (SCF) league, which is comprised of 12 teams in four divisions [North West, North East, South West, and South East]. The Wolverines are part of the South West division as are the Houston County Warriors, and the Capital City Ligers from Montgomery, Ala.

This also is the inaugural season for the SCF league. Other teams in the league include: (North West Division) Mob City Avengers [Knoxville, Tenn.], Winchester Ducks [Winchester, Tenn.], and the Cartersville Cardinals [Cartersville, Ga.]; (North East Division) Clayton County Spartans [Riverdale, Ga.], Cherokee County Bruins [Canton, Ga.], and Georgia Ravens [Macon, Ga.]; (South East Division) Savannah Raiders [Savannah, Ga.], The Tribe [Douglas, Ga.], and Georgia Crushers [Albany, Ga.].

Last Saturday, at Elba's Miller Memorial Stadium, the Wiregrass Wolverines shutout their opponents from Dothan with a 30-0 win. Next up, the Wolverines will host the Georgia Crushers on Saturday, July 22, at Miller Memorial Stadium in Elba, at 7 p.m.

Admission is $10 per adult and $5 for a child with a paying adult. Concessions are available at the games. The Wiregrass Wolverines are coached by Will Love.

New Brockton hoping for better results in '23 with new head coach and new enthusiasm

New Brockton High School made the jump into Class 3A three years ago and since that time no sports program at the school has struggled more than football, as the Gamecocks have struggled to a 5-23 record, including an 0-10 campaign a year ago.

This season the Gamecocks will try to reenergize the program under the direction of Coach Jason Barnett, who will take over the helms of the program after spending the past five years as head coach at Citronelle, where his teams posted a 20-31 record, including a 1-9 record last season.

It looks like the New Brockton Gamecocks and new head coach Jason Barnett are both in need of a new start, and hopes are high the marriage will work wonders and return the Gamecocks to their winning ways of the past!

This year's football schedule will certainly be a challenge as the Gamecocks open the season on the road against 1A power Elba and 3A region foe Opp, and must hit the road three times in the first four weeks, in a region that includes Houston Academy, Opp, Pike County and Straughn, a quartet of teams that last season combined for 33 wins.

Following is a preview of this year's football schedule:
Aug. 25 at Elba

The Gamecocks are 1-14 all-time against their cross-county rivals, including a 40-8 loss last season, and in the past ten losses have lost by an average of 36 points per game. Elba has rolled to a 21-3 record the past two seasons and has posted a winning record 16 straight years.

Sept. 1 at Opp

The Gamecocks will enter region play the second week when they travel to Opp to tangle with the Opp Bobcats. New Brockton is 0-3 all-time in the brief series and since moving to the 3A ranks has been outscored by the Bobcats 111-36. Opp has advanced to the playoff four straight years and over the past three seasons has a combined record of 25-10.

Sept. 8 Providence Christian

The Gamecocks will remain in region play in week three action when they host the Providence Christian Eagles. New Brockton has lost the last five meetings with the Eagles after winning back-to-back in 2014-2015. Providence Christian has won four games each of the past three years and last season posted a 4-6 record.

Sept. 15 at Daleville

The Gamecocks own a 6-5 series edge over Daleville and have won two of the last three games, but lost a year ago 34-24. The Warhawks, which posted a 3-7 record last season, have won only four games combined over the past three seasons.

Sept. 22 Houston Academy

The Gamecocks will be back at home in week five when they host the defending region champion Houston Academy Raiders. New Brockton has a 6-17 series record against the Raiders and have lost the last 13 meetings. Houston Academy enjoyed a banner year last season and posted its first 10-win season since 2006.

Oct. 13 Straughn

The Gamecocks will return home for a region contest against the Straughn Tigers. New Brockton has a 7-9 series record against the Tigers, and have lost three of the last four meetings by an average of 15 points per game. The Tigers will be coming off their second straight seven-win season after struggling to six straight non-winning seasons.

Oct. 20 at Ashford

The Gamecocks will close out their road schedule when they head to Ashford for a region clash against the Ashford Yellowjackets. New Brockton lost its first-ever meeting with the 'Jackets 42-13 last season. Ashford has win only 11 games combined over the past six years.

Oct. 27 Headland

The Gamecocks will jump out of region play when they host the 5A Headland Rams. New Brockton lost its first-ever meeting between the teams 34-14 a year ago. Headland is coming off a 6-5 season, which was the Rams first winning season in four years.

Nov. 3 Northside Methodist

The Gamecocks will close out regular season play at home when they host the Northside Methodist Knights. New Brockton has an 0-3 series record against the Knights and last season dropped a 48-18 decision. Northside Methodist is in its 10th season playing football and has posted only one winning season.

Kinston looking tfor return to winning ways

The Kinston Bulldogs will be looking to continue their recent winning ways on the gridiron when the 2023 high school football seasons kicks off next month, but with an early-season schedule that could be one of the toughest in the area, the Bulldogs will have to come out ready for war if they are to make a return to the state playoffs after a one-year absence.

Kinston, which has posted two winning records in the past nine years and over the last two years has won a total of 12 games, the most of any Bulldog team in the history of the program in back-to-back seasons, will kick off the season with five challenges that include three straight road games to open the season, a pair of 2A opponents and the top three region finishers from last season.

Kinston will be led again this season by Coach Rudy Free, who will be entering his fifth season as the head man for the Bulldogs. Coach Free has compiled a 17-24 record in four years at the helm, which is tied for second most wins by any coach ever at Kinston.

Following is a preview of this season's schedule:

Aug. 25 at Samson

The Bulldogs will open the season on the road when they head to Samson for a clash with the 2A Samson Tigers. Kinston has won the last two meetings, including a 34-12 victory a year ago, after dropping six straight games to the Tigers. Samson, which leads the series 33-8, struggled to a 1-9 record last season after back-to-back winning seasons.

Sept. 1 at Elba

The Bulldogs will renew their rivalry against their cross-county rivals in week two when they travel to Elba to open region play against the Elba Tigers. Kinston is 0-6 all-time against the Tigers and have been outscored 234-32 in the short history of the series. Elba has posted 16 straight winning seasons, including state titles in 2011 and 2015, and over the past two years has compiled a gaudy 21-3 record.

Sept. 8 Open Date

Sept. 15 at Georgiana

The Bulldogs will continue their early-season travels in week four when they make the trip to Georgiana for a region showdown with the Georgiana Panthers. Kinston stands 5-8 all-time against the Panthers and has won only once in the last nine meetings. Georgiana posted seven wins and advanced to the playoffs last season after an 0-10 record the previous season.

Sept. 22 Brantley

The Bulldogs will finally get to stay at home on a Friday night when they host the Brantley Bulldogs in a key region clash. Kinston owns a 4-33 all-time record in the series, has lost 25 straight games to the 1A power, and lost 53-6 a year ago. Brantley has advanced to the state playoffs 26 straight seasons and has logged a total of 46 wins over the past four seasons.

Sept. 29 Goshen

The Bulldogs will step out of the region wars in week six when they host the 2A Goshen Eagles. Kinston has a 1-2 series record against the Eagles, lost 63-19 a year ago, and hasn't posted a win in the series since 2005. Goshen posted a 6-4 record last season after struggling to a 1-18 record the previous two seasons.

Oct. 5 at Pleasant Home

The Bulldogs will be back on the road and back in region action when they head to Pleasant Home to battle the Pleasant Home Eagles. Kinston holds a slim 12-11

Oct. 13 Red Level

The Bulldogs will be home at Bulldog Stadium in week eight for a region clash against the Red Level Tigers. The Bulldogs stand 11-13 all-time in the series, but posted a 35-0 win last season and have won four straight meetings and nine of the last eleven. Red Level's last winning season came back in 2006, and the Tigers have managed just 11 wins over the past six years.

Oct. 20 at McKenzie

The Bulldogs will close out the road portion of their schedule with a trip to McKenzie for a key region clash against the McKenzie Tigers. Kinston owns a 10-17 all-time record in the series and has lost three straight meetings, including a 38-22 setback a year ago. McKenzie struggled to only one win last season after winning 14 games the previous two years.

Oct. 27 Florala

The Bulldogs will be back at the house for a week ten region battle against the Florala Wildcats. Kinston owns a 15-20 all-time series record against the Wildcats, lost 56-30 last season, and has lost four the last five meetings against its region rivals. Florala has won a total of 25 games over the last four years, with at least seven wins in three of the four seasons.

Nov. 3 Houston County

The Bulldogs will close out the regular season with a region contest against the Houston County Lions. Kinston, which stands 2-3 all-time in the brief series, posted an 18-15 win last season to snap a three-game losing skid. Houston County posted its last winning record back in 2017 and has won just 11 games over the past five years.

competitions.

"They are already planning and plotting for next year," Morgan said. "There is a lot of time and preparations that go into these competitions."

Adalyn O'Neal competed this year in Say Yes to FCS Education, and she had a "Top 10" finish at nationals with a score of 96 – a testament of how stiff the competition is for the events.

"Going into it, I knew I was competing against a lot of students that already have received scholarships to go into family and consumer science education for their chosen careers," A. O'Neal said. "I don't know yet [about my future plans], so, competing against seniors that already know they want to do that and making the 'Top 10' – that was very exciting for me."

The other individual competitor from Elba was Keelie Moseley. She competed in the Teach or Train category.

"I was really nervous," Keelie Moseley said. "I knew I just needed to go in there and do it, and it would be fine. I felt like I did good, but I had no idea who I was competing against."

And...do good she did! "Keelie won't tell you this, but she scored a perfect 100 on her presentation," Morgan said. "That is very impressive."

It also vaulted Keelie Moseley to a first place finish at nationals in her chosen category.

"I was expecting third place at best," Keelie said. "So, when they called my name out for first place, I was like, 'What?'"

Elba's Repurpose and Redesign team, consisting of Shaylee Johnson, Payton Parks, and Mary-Brooklyn O'Neal, joined Keelie Moseley in finding out what it feels like to be announced as the best in the nation.

"There is a video of us getting first while we were on the stage, and Shaylee's mouth dropped all the way to the floor," Mary-Brooklyn O'Neal said.

"We just knew we had made 'Top 10' at that point," Johnson added. "So, when they had announced third and second places, we knew it was first or nothing. Your mind kind of goes to the worst-case scenario, so, it was surprising when we were announced as the winners."

While the Elba competitors were busy with their competitions during the week, McKelvy was involved in lots of trainings with other FCCLA state officers from across the nation.

"These trainings and things helped grow our leadership and taught us how to better network within our respective states," she said. "I also got to attend all the general sessions, and Alabama received an increase in membership award this year. I was privileged to be able to go on stage and accept that for our state."

McKelvy said she also enjoyed carrying the Alabama state flag for the flag ceremony at conference.

Morgan said FCCLA is truly the ultimate leadership experience, and the Elba students all agree being a part of this program has been a great way to help them grow socially.

"I definitely have gained so much confidence through FCCLA," said Adalyn O'Neal as she prepares to enter her senior year of high school in August. "When I started this back in the eighth grade, I did not have much confidence in speaking. I would sit back and let others lead, but FCCLA has encouraged me to step up and lead."

Johnson added, "It has definitely helped me with my social skills and getting up and talking in front of people. I never would have done that by myself."

"Payton looked at me at one point and said, 'I think I am becoming more social,'"

Morgan said. "It really is a program that pushes you and helps to grow as a person. I do believe FCCLA has helped all of them socially and to come out of their shell a bit."

McKelvy said she has a new-found appreciation for FCCLA.

"I can see just how it affects people's lives now in my new role, and I am so grateful to have had this opportunity," she said. "Every person has something different to say about FCCLA. It can mean so much to a person. It can change lives because FCCLA is where a lot find and prepare for their career."

Keelie Moseley added that Elba's results this year at FCCLA nationals also speaks volumes about the education the students are receiving at Elba City Schools.

"It obviously shows that good things are happening at our schools," she said. "It shows we can be successful beyond the standardized testing that so many focus on."

Day concurred as she said the recent results from the national FCCLA event is proof that test scores are not everything.

"Obviously, testing is important, but things like ACAP testing are not everything. I think going to something like FCCLA nationals and coming back with the results were did show that."

McKelvy added, "It is evident our teachers are not only teaching us from the textbooks, but they are teaching us core values of life and what we are going to have to take with us throughout the rest of our lives. They let us 'dip our feet in the water' so to speak."

She said she thinks the Elba School System does a great job in letting its students know there are many things out there to be a part of and to venture out into those things.
